Ending details:

Sew the helmet's opening to the body's opening. With invisible stitches sew the belly to the front part of the body as in the final project.

Place the eyes in the front side of the body, a little bit over the belly. The bigger eye goes on the left and the smaller eye on the right (the wider part of this eye goes across). Then sew them with invisible stitches. Sew the helmet's eyes' border all around the sides and top of the eyes, with the precaution of centering its central appendix between the eyes as in the final project. Place the beak over the eyes bottom and sew them with invisible stitches.

Sew the tail to the lower part of the Tux's back, and sew the wings, one to each side of the body.

Cape: With the tapestry needle sew up and down the yarn around each stitch from last row and pull until its length fits all around the back, from one wing to the other. Place the cape under the helmet's lower border and sew it with invisible stitches.

With red yarn and chain stitches embroider a "T" across the shield's centre. Pass the shield's handle through the Tux's left wing and make a few invisible stitches in order to keep the shield firm.

Sew the sword to the right wing.

Helmet's plume: Cut pieces of 8 cm of red yarn. Group them in pairs and fix them across the middle part of the helmet's top, starting from 3 cm above the eyes for a total of 6 cm.

Enjoy!
